11 MORE GO INSANE FROM MYSTERIOUS LEAD GAS

31 VICTIMS IS TOLL OF FUMES

U. S. Experts Unable to Find Antidote

4 DEAD, 6 MAY DIE

Tetra Ethyl Fumes Effect Standard Oil Chemists

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Eleven more insane victims of "looney gas" in Reconstruction Hospital here today brought the total to 31 men crazed from fumes of the deadly tetra ethyl lead inhaled in the laboratory of the Standard Oil Company at Bayway, N. J.

Four men have died, after becoming violently insane from fumes and six of them in hospitals, are reported in a "serious condition."

The federal government has taken a hand in the investigation and is sending experts from Washington laboratories of the bureau of mines to make researches into the nature of the gas malady and strive to find an antidote.

COVINGTON TO SEIZE HECKLERS

Warns Against Molestation of Ferguson

Warning that any person who attempts to molest former Governor Jim Ferguson who is to address a democratic mass meeting here Friday night by heckling, throwing of eggs, or otherwise interrupting will be looked up was issued by Police Chief W. W. Covington today.

Covington said the egg hurled at Major A. V. Dalrymple, speaking in behalf of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson for governor last Saturday night, was a disgrace to the reputation of the city and must not be repeated.

Covington's statement said: "A person coming to Port Arthur as a guest is not going to be insulted if the police department can help it. It has come to me the egg thrown at Major Dalrymple was by one endorsing the candidate Dalrymple was representing so as to create sympathy and make votes for Mrs. Ferguson. This may or may not be so, but friend or foe of the speaker will be treated alike."

"I shall have a large force of men scattered through the crowd at the Ferguson speaking Friday night with orders to nab the first person trying to start anything rough. The right of free speech for all parties and classes is going to be observed in Port Arthur if the police department can make it possible."

Coolidge to Get Over 100 Elector Margin By Vote, Says Digest

Swing of Doubtful States Indicate G. O. P. With 327, Democrats 165, Progressives 39

President Coolidge seems certain to receive more than enough electoral votes to retain his office for another term on the basis of the final returns of The Literary Digest's non-partisan national poll.

Of the grand total of 2,880,052 ballots recorded, Coolidge receives 1,348,033 votes, La Follette 508,516, and Davis 505,410. The balance of 24,003 are scattered among the other five regular candidates.

Wisconsin, casting 13 electoral votes, is the only state which accords Senator La Follette a plurality in The Digest poll. The state credited to Mr. Davis include Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, representing a total electoral vote of 139.

But according to The Digest's figures Senator La Follette has evidenced considerable strength in California, Nevada, North Dakota and South Dakota, which if he gains on election day would increase his electoral votes to a total of 39.

The Digest states that in pursuing this policy of giving the benefit of doubtful states to a vigorous contender for leadership in the state, Mr. Davis might be credited with Oklahoma, West Virginia and Maryland, which would increase his electoral poll 26 votes, making him a total of 165.

Granting the democratic and progressive candidates these states, where President Coolidge is leading by a narrow plurality, it would leave the president 327 electoral votes, with 296 required for election to the executive chair.

Second Man Hurt By Flying Pump Handle

Flying pump handles took a second toll of injured city employees this week when Mois Blanchard, of 191 Eleventh street, was struck in his left eye by a crank handle on a small pump at the Shreveport avenue station, about 1:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Blanchard was unable to leave Mary Gates hospital today, where he was taken Wednesday afternoon for medical attention, authorities at the institution reporting that his injury, while severe and painful, is not expected to seriously impair the sight in his eye.

E. L. Swanson, injured Saturday night when a pump handle struck him in the side while he was at work with a force repairing a city main in the rear of 1349 Procter street, injuring him so severely that he had to be removed to his home. Swanson is entirely recovered.

Elgin H. Blalock, state adjutant of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, will make the principal address. A state charter will be applied for following tonight's meeting, it is understood.

9,382,363 BARRELS CRUDE OIL GATHERED

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 30.—Crude oil gathered by pipelines in Texas during September totaled 9,382,363 barrels, decrease of 7,261,774 barrels compared with the previous month, according to the railroad commission's monthly statement. The largest amount, 2,116,632 was gathered from the Navarro county fields; Limestone county was second with 1,090,172, and Wichita county third, 1,044,449.

CONSIDER OFFER OF PICTURE OPERATOR

The public school board is taking under advisement the proposition of the local union of moving picture operators to furnish free a representative from that organization to operate the movie machine in the various school buildings. H. B. Paggi, city electrical inspector said today.

Recent passage of an ordinance by the city council requiring all operators in movie houses to take an examination given by a board composed of the city fire marshal, electrical inspector and a member of the operators' union, no provision was made for the school machines.

PAY $75 ANNUALLY FOR DRYDEN LIGHTS

The city commission today agreed to pay $75 a year for the lighting of the Dryden addition, this sum representing upkeep of three lights and being in proportion to the amount of lighting afforded other sections of the city. Cost of the lights now burning in the addition is about $400 a year, City Engineer Herpin estimated. Herpin was asked by the commissioners to confer with City Attorney Wistner on the proposition.

60,000 CASES ON DOCK LET GO

Score of Crew of Tanker Alden Burned

WHARVES COLLAPSE

Electric Wires Believed to Be Cause of Tragedy

MARTINEZ, Cal., Oct. 30.—Twelve men are missing and more than a score suffering from burns, following explosion of sixty thousand cases of gasoline at the wharves of the Associated Oil company, five miles from here.

The men were members of the crew of the tanker Alden Anderson, destroyed by flames which spread over the dock.

There were 42 men in the crew, all of whom were forced to jump overboard when the flames blocked their escape at the dock. All but 12 were picked up in the water.

The explosion was caused by collapse of the wharves, dragging down electric wires which set off the gasoline.

Support for Roll Call Seen

Red Cross Work Praised By Drive Workers

Past eight months activities of the Port Arthur chapter of the Red Cross have been the greatest in its history, officials said today, in commenting on reasons why the annual roll call and sustaining membership drive to raise $18,000 for 1925 operations which begins Armistice Day should be supported by the entire community.

Records of the organization show that during the past eight months 108 soldier claims for hospitalization, pension adjustments and similar items have been attended to here. All soldier relief work for the government is officially handled by the Red Cross.

In addition to the work for the former soldiers, 228 civilian families received aid of some kind from the chapter here.

Two days should be ample time to oversubscribe the $18,000 quota of 1925 which is $7,000 less than this year, drive members declared.

BUSINESS UP

6th Reserve Bank Says South Prosperous

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 30.—The south's cotton crop will surpass last year's production and with larger returns being assured for all crops this year, there is at this time a general improvement in business and agricultural conditions, in the sixth federal reserve district, according to the monthly review made public here today.

Wholesale trade has increased in volume since mid-summer, it was noted. Retail trade also registered healthy increases, reported. The outlook for fall and winter business was regarded as "optimistic."

The employment situation was "slightly improved" the report said, but "there is still some idleness at various points."

TWO BURN

Loyalty to Race Horses Cost Their Lives

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 30.—Loyalty to their race horse charges cost the lives of two men and serious injury to another here today.

Herbert Ike Teluth, 45, of San Diego, Cal., trainer for the Tam O'Shanter stables, and Buck Murray, his assistant, died of burns sustained when Hay in a railroad car carrying eleven race horses caught on fire.

John Tantlinger, 18, son of Vern Tantlinger, manager of the Buck Jones moving picture company of Hollywood, was seriously burned but will recover.

Some Family

Seventy-four years married and never a quarrel.

That's the record established by S. R. Cobb and wife of Holdridge, Neb., who have celebrated their seventy-fourth wedding anniversary.

Cobb is 97. Mrs. Cobb is 92. They have four living children whose ages are 72, 68, 64 and 61. They have 20 grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

MIDDLEBROOK SCORES KLAN

Nacogdoches Judge Speaks for 'Ma' Ferguson

BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 30.—Denunciation aplenty against George C. Butte, republican candidate for governor, and the Ku Klux Klan were delivered here last night to more than 1,000 at Weiss park by Judge Vernon E. Middlebrook of Nacogdoches, former member of the court of civil appeals here.

Middlebrook told the audience that Dr. Butte was going over the state reading derogatory passages concerning Ferguson from state history text books, and failing to read the sections of commendation.

Placing of the land office and the prison system on a business basis with a square deal for the rural schools were praised as worthwhile deeds of the Ferguson administration. Ferguson never made a promise that he did not fulfill in office, Middlebrook said, and said "not even the immortal Hogg" had done this well.

"He tells us—this 'pin-headed' republican has the nerve to say that democracy should not hesitate to break the primary pledge, that it is only a moral obligation, I say in answer to this that any candidate who holds this opinion is just downright dishonest and is not entitled to head this grand state."

On the Klan issue Middlebrook said Jefferson county was one of the doubtful sections in the Ferguson campaign, but that he hoped a substantial majority would be rolled up for "Ma" Ferguson Tuesday. Middlebrook criticized Judge P. A. Dowling's remarks about his "skillet" and not wanting any "dirty spoons in it."

"It would be wise for the judge first to see whether his skillet isn't dirty. I think it was very dirty when he permitted his rump convention to be held in our mayor's race and denied the name of the democratic nominee to be placed on the ticket. Personally, I don't want my spoon in this utensil."

16 TRUE BILLS ARE RETURNED

BEAUMONT, Texas, Oct. 31.—The grand jury of the 60th district court adjourned Wednesday noon at which time 16 bills were returned. Arrests have been made on only four of the indictments.

R. E. O'Bryan, Port Neches man, was indicted on a charge of assault to murder, following an alleged attack on his wife several weeks ago. A peace bond of $1500 was set by Judge H. H. Reeves which has never been made, Reeves said.

Deputy sheriffs were not put to the trouble of arresting Pat Dougherty, Port Arthur man, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. He stood trial in county court at law last week on a charge of driving an automobile without the consent of the owner and was sent to jail for 30 days by Judge C. N. Ellis. The new indictment was served on him at the county jail.

A. F. Turner was charged with manufacturing liquor. I. W. Harper, also charged with a liquor law violation was released this morning on $500 bond.

Judge W. M. Carroll, foreman of the grand jury, asked that the organization be allowed to adjourn until November 17, and permission was granted by Judge J. D. Campbell for a recess until that time.

FLIERS ON WAY TO SANTONE

Three Planes Leave San Diego Saturday

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30.—Definite word that the world flyers, led by Captain Lowell H. Smith, will arrive in San Antonio Sunday afternoon, was received at eight corps area headquarters today from Major S. W. Fitzgerald, commander of Rockwell Field.

According to Major Fitzgerald, the three planes will leave San Diego Saturday morning, flying to Tucson, Arizona, for a short stop and then continuing to El Paso for the night. The flight will be resumed Sunday morning and the airmen will arrive at Kelly Field that afternoon.

The aviators will be officially welcomed by Major General Charles P. Summerall and other high ranking officers of this area.

Choir Rehearses For Christian Church Meet

Thirty were present at the choir rehearsal last night at the First Christian church and a splendid chorus rehearsal was held under the direction of Miss Gladys Garrett, chairman of the revival campaign music committee.

This committee is doing splendidly in getting all the singers lined up for the revival meeting, which begins next Sunday." Rev. R. R. Yelderman said today. "It is the desire of the committee that all members of the church who can sing and who have the cause of the church at heart assist in the song service."

LATEST NEWS FROM LOUISIANA TOWNS

SHREVEPORT—Paving work, costing approximately $250,000, is nearing completion in through Fairfield Heights subdivision.

CROWLEY—The Riceland Ice Cream company is clearing ground for a new building here to cost about $20,000.

MONROE—Plans have been announced for the construction of a power and light plant on the Ouachita river, to be interconnected with the Arkansas Light and Power company and Mississippi Power and Light company, the entire work to represent a cost of approximately $70,500,000.

NEW ORLEANS—John Nosack, 1111 North Claiborne avenue, fled over the roofs after beating his wife, but was captured when he fell off one house to the ground, according to police reports. Patrolman Diaz made the arrest.

LAFAYETTE—Fire destroyed a large barn on the farm of Robert Comeaux, three miles from Broussard.

LAFAYETTE—The body of Davis DeBlanc, negro, who has been employed at the farm of T. F. Arceneaux, was found badly mangled about 100 feet from the main Southern Pacific crossing at Careno. It is believed that the negro was killed by a freight train the night before his body was found.

HOUMA—John A. Boyne, 65, resident of this parish for 40 years and one of the best known boat builders in this section, died from an attack of acute indigestion at his home on Bayou Terre Bonne, 20 miles south of Houma. From boyhood Boyne had been identified with the fisheries industries and early in life he spent several years on boats running between New Orleans and the Terrebonne parish waters. Later he settled on Brush island, in Terrebonne Bay, where he resided for many years. He is survived by his wife, six sons and two daughters.

CARTER AND BURGE ATTEND ORANGE FAIR

The Eleventh annual Orange County Fair was attended officially by Manager A. L. Burge and George Carter, vice president of the local fair association Wednesday.

Port Arthur and Orange officials stated next year would see large delegations from both cities attending the annual fairs. This will be made possible by the Orange-Port Arthur highway which is expected to be completed by then, officials said.

ROTARIANS JOIN HALLOWEEN FUN

Party at Plaza Announced For Friday

Rotarians and Rotary-Anns, as ghosts and witches, will join the Halloween throngs in entertainment mysterious at the Plaza hotel Friday night at 7 o'clock. Rollin Drake announced to the club today at its regular weekly luncheon meeting at the Plaza hotel.

"Bed sheets and masks are all the paraphernalia needed for the Halloween party Friday night," Drake told the Rotarians.

Munger Hall, president of the Boy Scout Council, announced to the Rotarians that the annual Boy Scout drive is on, and canvassers for funds to carry on the boys' work in the city will be around within the next few days. Hall urged that Rotarians give liberally of their finances and moral support to the project. The budget this year is $1500 less than last year's, he said.

The project underway to secure for Port Arthur an air service training unit and station on the air ways mail service was outlined for the Rotary Club by Elgin H. Blalock, assistant secretary of the Port Arthur Reserve Officers' association, and the club decided to have its board of directors take up the project.

Musical entertainment was furnished at the luncheon by Miss Carol Newton, pianist; Miss Jessie Newton, violinist, and Mrs. Frances Dial, mezzo-soprano, supervisor of music in the Port Arthur public schools.

BLACK IN CHARGE OF LIONS PROGRAM

The program for the Lions weekly luncheon meeting at the Plaza hotel tomorrow will be in charge of M. J. Black, according to Secretary "Red" Paschal. "It will be something different—that's all I know about it," Paschal said. "We want all the Lions out tomorrow at 12:35."

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave The System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full bottle of Allenbur's, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenbur has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and tedious and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of 24 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenbur, who for many years suffered the tortures of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenbur decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance.

Hart Drug Co., Service Drug Co., and Corner Drug Co., are my appointed agents in your city. If you live out of town I'll gladly send you free particulars. Mail orders accepted.—Adv.

Banquet Ticket Sale Booms, Says Faulkner

Sale of tickets for the banquet of business men to Martin L. Pierce, business efficiency expert here for two days next Tuesday and Wednesday, was reported by Chairman J. W. Faulkner this morning as going rapidly, the 250 quota would probably be reached by Friday, he said.

Pierce in a letter received at chamber headquarters today stated he is enthusiastic over the prospect of his itinerary here.

Pierce will make only six big Texas cities while on this tour, these being San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco and Port Arthur.

The business men's banquet will be Tuesday night and will be the main event of a schedule of some 10 appearances the lecturer will make here before different audiences.

Suggestion of Occult Helps Realism of Halloween Party; Witches, Cats, Essential

SOME SIMPLE, EFFECTIVE AIDS

Grey Witches More Mysterious Than Black

The girl who is planning a Halloween party will find half the success of her party due to careful lighting arrangements.

The lights—unless a bright one is necessary for some particular game—should be dim and flickering. Candles best achieve this effect. Faint wavering light will immediately suggest the occult and unusual to Halloween guests and will create a "spooky" atmosphere. If electric lights are used, the shades should be lined with green tissue paper.

Try greens, grays, and an occasional gleam of orange for a color scheme. The grays will lend a vagueness and mystery that is most intriguing. A gray bat made of wire and cheesecloth suspended in such a way that he gently flutters at every opened door will be more effective than a black one. And gray witches sailing on their broomsticks to wipe the cobwebs out of the sky are more mysterious than dead black witches.

To make "cobwebs," paste long ravings of fine silk on a piece of cardboard and hang it in some doorway through which each guest must pass. The cardboard and threads must be inconspicuous and the threads, of course, of different lengths that will suit the heights of the guests.

Green frogs and lizards and snakes, all creatures, chimney with witches and sorceresses, might replace the usual bric-a-brac and drape themselves over backs of chairs or peep from dull sprays of leaves. The frogs and snakes may be made of cheesecloth or cumbic and stuffed with rags, straw or sawdust—dependent on where the reptile is to disport himself. For instance, a snake twisted gracefully around the arm of a chair should be stuffed with rags, while a lizard investigating the edge of a table should gain his back home from sawdust.

Place a shock of corn—or at least some stalks of corn—in one corner of the living room or hall. With the corn for her aloof, a gypsy holds forth as fortune-teller. She may be either a "palmist" or a "medium"—gaining her knowledge from palms or communication with the spirit world. The decision rests with the hostess.

If apples are served during the evening, let it be understood that each apple be "snapped" and named—the girl's named for a man of her acquaintance and the man's for a girl. Then the seeds must be counted to the accompaniment of this verse:

"One" I love, "two" I love, "three" I love I say,
"Four" I love with all my heart,
"five" I cast away,
"Six" he loves, "seven" she loves,
"Eight" they both love,
"Nine" he comes, "ten" he tarries,
"Eleven" he courts and "twelve" he marries.

And of course the name of the apple

is the "he" or "she" of the verse.

As for a Halloween supper, why not serve stuffed apple salad, rye bread sandwiches, pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee? During the evening sweet cider might be served from a punch bowl.

Use a large cabbage to hold fruit as a centerpiece on the dining table. Cut the heart from the cabbage, leaving a strong shell. Fill it with grapes and apples and nuts. The effect is pleasing.

Stuffed Apple Salad

Twelve apples, 1-2 cup chopped raisins, 1 cup chopped nuts, 4 tablespoons orange marmalade, 2 Neufchatel cheeses, salad dressing.

Scoop out centers of apples, remove cores and chop apple. Combine raisins, nuts, marmalade, cheese, and apple with salad dressing to make moist. Fill apples with mixture and serve on the feasting, wild clematis matris, any leaves or grasses will do.

Rye Bread Sandwiches

Combine ripe olives and sweet red peppers, using half as much pepper as olive. Season with salt and put between slices of buttered rye bread.

Pumpkin Pie

One cup stewed and sifted pumpkin, 2-3 cup brown sugar, 2 cups milk, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon (optional).

Beat egg with sugar, salt and ginger. Add milk and pumpkin and mix well. Pour into pie dish lined with plain pastry and bake in a moderate oven until firm to the touch. This amount of custard will fill a medium-sized pie dish.

The secret of a good pumpkin pie lies in the stewing of the pumpkin. Long, slow cooking is imperative. Serve the pie with slightly sweetened whipped cream.

BANKS' STATUS IN BELL COUNTY GOOD

TEMPLE, Texas, Oct. 30.—Nine-teen banks in Bell county have combined deposits in excess of $10,000,000 according to a study of reports made by these institutions at close of business Oct. 10. Of this amount the four banks of Temple account for nearly one-half of the total, or $4,712,733.

There is as much money on deposit in the banks at this time with the cotton season half over as there was last year at the close of the season. The records of the Temple banks is unprecedented and is nearly one million dollars in excess of any previous statement.

WHAT CAN PIMPLY FACED BOYS AND GIRLS EXPECT

Nobody knows better than the boy or girl who has been slighted time and again by their supposed "best friend," how humiliating it is to have to stand for such "cutting" things when they know they can expect nothing more as long as they don't look attractive on account of a pimply, blotchy or rough skin.

But such heartaches don't have to be put up with. Any boy or girl who is troubled with these skin blemishes can get rid of them if they will just use Black and White Ointment and the Soap. The fact that they sell at the tremendous rate of more than two million packages a year shows how popular they are. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. Any dealer can supply you with both the Ointment and the Soap. The 5c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.

COMMON SENSE IS FINE THING, BUT LET'S HAVE SOME OF IT!

THE PRINCE
There were recently two significant arrivals in the United States.

One of these was a smiling, pleasant Dutch boy who was greeted by the society people of Long Island and made much of because he was heir to the British throne.

The other was six young men who had just completed a trip around the world in an airplane.

This illustrates the American and the old world point of view. The old world is inclined to honor a man because of his ancestors. The new world rather honors men because of something they have done.

These young men had just completed a trip around the world by airplane. It was a significant and record breaking achievement, as significant in its way as the voyage of Magellan some 400 years ago. It illustrates the triumph of the internal combustion engine which is destined to work wonders in our future civilization. This engine was managed by men of courage and skill so that the circumnavigation of the globe is destined, in the future, to be a commonplace event.

Their triumph, in its way, is parallel to Fulton's steamboat on the Hudson, Morse's trans-Atlantic cable, the steam engine, and other events that marked the 19th century.

Their feat is another point in the history of nations. It is another breaking down of barriers, and tends towards the realization of the world's dream, which is of unity.

There is no doubt that civilization rests upon transportation. Not only has such a railroad as the Louisville and Nashville done more than all politics to reunite the North and South, but trans-Atlantic liners have done more than politics in uniting the world. This trip of the airmen is significant of great strides to come.

The visit of the Prince has no significance except in the social world, which is very small. Of course all American parvenus are worshippers of royalty and do their best to at least a glimpse of His Royal Highness. But it is an outbreak of curiosity seekers and in no wise touches the real development of the country.

This is no disparagement of the Prince, who seems to be a decent kind of boy and inclined to behave himself. But he is a nonentity, keeping himself well out of the road while British statesmen of another order manage his politics for him. He is a kindly, genial gentleman and all Americans wish him well but his visit to this country, in comparison to the coming of the airmen, was insignificant. He has done nothing, and can do nothing. He merely prolongs the institution of monarchy by being an inoffensive gentleman.

(Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

In New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Walter Damrosch is entering upon his fourth season as conductor of the New York Symphony orchestra.

Damrosch has conducted 2,000 scores with an average of five to a concert. That is a total of 20,000 pieces played under his direction.

Do these sound like dry statistics? If they do, picture yourself swinging a baton for 24,000 hours.

The New York symphony was founded by Damrosch's father, Leopold Damrosch, in 1878. It visited Europe in 1920, playing in France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and England. It will go to Cuba next January upon invitation of the government.

Damrosch in his 40 years with the orchestra has traveled 400,000 miles. In that time his organization has played to eight million people.

Sitting on a bench beneath the clock in the Times Square subway station was an old man, grizzled, ragged and dirty.

Ten steps below him express and local trains were rumbling and grinding as they stopped and started.

It was the mad rush hour of the evening. Thousands were hurrying and scurrying past the old fellow, at times almost knocking the book from his hand. It was a poor place for romance.

I rubbed to see what book could so hold a man's attention. It was "Within These Walls," by Rupert Hughes.

Five years ago Richard Giffney returned home to the tenement at 229 Avenue C, a bed-ridden invalid. His wife was suffering with cancer, but she went out to scrub floors and work in laundries.

The other day the old man and his wife were found together in the bed, dead. All the gas jets in the room were turned on.

When the patrolman arrived there also arrived Henry Nacey with $200 a sick benefit fund from the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers. The postman on his next trip brought a letter from a niece in Chicago offering help.

Miss Clara Stutz, 35, was killed under a subway train when she was crowded off the platform of the East Side line at Fourteenth street.

She was the sole support of her mother and invalid sister. She taught a Sunday school class in St. George's church, of which J. Pierpont Morgan is a member.

—JAMES W. DEAN.

For Children's Clothes
Hand-run trucks make very pretty trimmings for children's clothes, and may be let out as the child's increased height necessitates a longer frock.

Now would seem to be a fine time for the practice of that "economy" and "common sense" in government which one hears so much about but sees so little of here in Washington.

Tied up at the Philadelphia navy yard is the partially completed dreadnaught Washington, one of the largest and most costly ships ever laid down by the United States navy.

A fighting ship of 32,600 tons, designed to carry eight 16-inch guns, some $20,000,000 were spent on her before the conference on limitation of armament listed her, because incomplete, among the vessels to be scrapped by Uncle Sam.

Now it is announced that the Washington is to be sent to a watery grave off the Virginia capes in December at the annual navy maneuvers and target practice.

She will be used as a thing to drop bombs on, a mark for gunners to fire at, until she fills with brine and goes down.

While Uncle Sam is permitting the navy to use this great hulk, containing thousands of tons of steel and materials that would repay many times the cost of salvaging, even for sale as scrap, as a target for a forenoon's "demonstration," the British government, also following a policy of "economy," is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars in raising the German warships sunk off Scapa Flow in order that the materials in them may be salvaged.

One or the other of the two governments must be "out of step" with the economy tune. If it is worth the British government's while to raise, at great expense, the hulks of the scuttled German fleet for the materials they contain, certainly the thorough salvaging of a ship already tied up beside a construction pier ought to yield equal savings.

THE CREATIVE IMPULSE

Pessimistic critics of modern industry who are forever harping about the mechanical processes making more than a mere automation and destroying his "creative impulse" arouse the indignation of one champion of the present day. He admits that a man may get tired of pushing a button or some other mechanical operation, but argues that the greater leisure which modern industry permits compared with the supposed idyllic days when each cobbler made a complete pair of shoes affords much greater opportunity for mental development and the creative impulse of thought.

It is conceivable that the cobbler often became as weary as his modern successor in the factory who does but one piece of work hour after hour. And when the long day's work was done the cobbler had no such opportunities for recreation, enjoyment or development as his twentieth century substitute. Do any of the idealists who long for the good old days and the good old simple ways pause to imagine how they would like to get along without the comforts and conveniences that mechanical production alone brings within their reach?

FORUM

In ancient democracies, politicians argued their respective merits before the populace assembled in the town marketplace or other open space serving as a forum. Any man who could hear and think could get all the facts.

Now the politician reaches the public through the printed columns of newspapers, magazines and circulars. A man who can't read gets his political information second-hand. Can such a man be trusted with the ballot? New York, deciding in the negative, says: "No read, no vote."

WOMEN

About two million American women have industrial jobs. Saleswomen total around 360,000. Over 250,000 women are farm owners or tenants. Over 31,000 women are artists, including almost 15,000 sculptors. There are over 4200 women bankers, 7200 women physicians and surgeons, 2500 women lawyers and more than 13,000 actresses.

All these, however, are but a fraction of the women employed in the original "infant industry"—motherhood. Home still is the lure for an overwhelming majority.

DEBT

Uncle Sam expects to pay off the entire national debt (about 21,500 million dollars) within 25 years. Right now it costs taxpayers about 1000 million dollars a year to pay the interest on Liberty and other bonds that represent this debt.

Some years after the debt is retired taxpayers' purses will be about ripe for another big war. That's history.

Quillen's Paragraphs

Anybody can be a great executive if he can afford to hire able men to do the work.

Out where they scorn these cowboy pants, that's where the west begins.

The cross-word puzzle that gets the goat of the average child is "Don't."

The silent vote is a known factor. It always comes from feathered nests.

FEET OF CLAY
By Willis M. Barnes
In grammar or geography
And in arithmetic
My little son would come to me
When anything would stick.
Throughout his grades I helped him out.

With all his problems, tiff
Within his mind there was no doubt
I was a man of skill.

But High school's proved my Waterloo.
With tear drops in his eyes
He came and asked me what to do
With x's and with y's.
I'm really sorry for the lad,
For now he's learned of me
That algebra has proved his Dad

This Is What Love Does
It was one of those rare but not altogether extinct times when a man and his wife were holding a love-making conversation reminiscent of the good old days before the war.

As is usual with women when in a tender mood, the deficiencies were forgotten for the moment and she was actually speaking well of him, strange and improbably as it may seem.
"Go on," he remarked tensely, "if I were to die tomorrow you'd marry again in no time."
She wheeled from the gas range and said in a voice trembling with emotion: "I wouldn't wipe a foot on the least man who ever lived, except you."

And he went back to his work feeling real happy.

COLEMAN COUNTY TO ACCEPT ROAD SOON
COLEMAN, Texas, Oct. 30.—Coleman county's highway with 180 miles of hard surfaced government specification roads, which have been under construction the last two years, are to be received by the county court in November.

This, with about 100 miles of graded lateral roads, practically finishes the road building in this county and gives a hard surface road leading each way out of the county, except one northwest of Coleman city.

Your Money AT WORK

Brief but important lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

NECESSITIES—HOUSING

ARE GOOD INVESTMENTS

There are two tests for investments which can always be applied. Does it deal with a necessity? Necessities are housing, fuel, water, light and such. (Food is of course a necessity but is not usually handled in such a way as to be interesting to the average investor.) Diamonds are considered by some as a form of investment sure to bring a profit but they could hardly be called a conservative form of investment as the demand depends on a general condition of prosperity.

Is the investment controlled by men of character and experience? No matter how much the commodity is needed the investment is not sound unless reliable, capable men are managing the enterprise. (Copyright, 1924, Associated Editors)

The Affair at Flower Acres

© 1924 by NIA Service Inc. BEGIN HERE TODAY

The body of Douglas Raynor is found in the early evening on the floor of the sun room at Flower Acres his Long Island home. Raynor had been shot through the head. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Eva Turner, Raynor's nurse, stands by the door with her hand on the lock switch. In the moment, Nancy appears white-faced and terrified. Orville Kent, Nancy's brother, comes in from the south side of the room, and then Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley, with others, enter upon the scene. Detective Dobbins investigates. Now an autopsy reveals that Raynor, before meeting death by a bullet, was being systematically dosed with arsenic.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"She did it!" Miss Mattie broke out, between her sobs. "Nan did it—I saw her slip a tablet!"

"Hush!" Orville Kent fairly thundered at her. "I insist that Miss Raynor shall not be allowed to talk. She is beside herself with nervous excitement and is not responsible for what she says."

Kent was white-faced and stern. "Mr. Kent," Fraser said, "you must not defeat the ends of justice."

"I don't want to," Kent stormed back; "but I refuse to sit here and let my sister be slandered and wickedly accused by a woman who would willingly perjure herself to convict my sister of a crime she is incapable of committing. You have no right, Doctor Fraser, to listen to the ravings of a mad woman."

"There, there, Mr. Kent," Dobbins broke in, "you do harm rather than good to your sister's cause by such a violent outburst. This investigation must be made. We must ask questions of those present, as they are the ones most likely to know the facts. Miss Raynor, do you accuse—"

"No," and Mattie Raynor sat bolt upright, and controlled herself sufficiently to speak quietly. "No, I accuse nobody. I spoke impulsively, and I retract anything I said—or suggested."

Nan looked at her with a sort of dumb gratitude.

Then Ezra Goddard spoke. "It is a strange case," he said. "But I shall say, Doctor Fraser, that as the poisoner did not succeed in his efforts and the person who shot Mr. Raynor did carry out his fatal intention, that the poisoning matter sinks into insignificance beside the matter of the shooting."

"Not at all, Mr. Goddard. The poisoner is quite as much a criminal in intent as the one who fired the pistol. Moreover, it is my theory that they are one and the same. I must admit the desire to kill Mr. Raynor on the part of somebody. The situation suggests that this would be murder tried the poison process, and finding that too slow or too inefficient resorted to the quicker and surer means of shooting."

"Well," said Orville Kent, shortly, "get busy then, and find out who it was. But go about it by inquiry and evidence and not by the imbecile method of accusing an entirely untrustworthy person."

"The situation is narrowing itself down," Doctor Fraser said slowly. "While I regret the necessity, I must, Mrs. Raynor, ask you for a frank statement of your attitude toward your late husband."

"My attitude?" Nan said, her head held erect and her dark eyes blazing with indignation; "that is a strange question sir. I can only say that my attitude toward my husband was that of respect, honor and admiration."

"And love—Mrs. Raynor?"

"I don't know just how to answer that," The beautiful brow knitted. "I assume I must answer, however, so I will say that while there was comradeship and harmony between my husband and myself, there was not what might be called deep affection."

"Why did you marry him?"

"For reasons of my own—quite apart from affection, then?"

"A matter of expediency, then?"

"Exactly," Nan seemed pleased with the word.

"And the reason for the expediency?"

"That I cannot tell you. If you can persuade me that it is necessary I may do so—but otherwise, I shall not answer that question."

Fraser paid no attention to the anger of Mrs. Raynor, but continued to question Mrs. Raynor.

"Had you noticed the symptoms I described as being those of poison?"

"I had noticed that my husband did not seem very well, but I ascribed it to the changing diet he was eternally trying."

"Meaning that Miss Turner experimented on him?" said Fraser quickly.

"Only in the pursuit of her duty. I know that my husband was a fastidious eater, and I know that Miss Turner, as well as other dietitians, he has employed, did her best to please him."

"Instead of seeming gratified at this vindication of herself, Eva Turner looked curiously at the speaker."

"I thank you," she said, at last, nodding her head in Nan's direction, "but I am in no need of your championship, Mrs. Raynor. Nor am I especially interested in the matter of poisoning. I should say, Doctor Fraser, that the shot that killed Mr. Raynor was far more important than poison that didn't kill him! And I will ask you to remember, that I was the one who turned on the lights just in time to see two people in the room with the dead man—either of whom—" she paused, and then went on firmly, "both of whom are secretly glad of the poor man's death."

Orville Kent turned on her in a fury of passion, but Ezra Goddard laid a restraining hand on his arm.

"Keep quiet, Kent," he said, "Miss Turner, you are making a grave statement."

"I am," she responded, her face white and set, "but you can determine the truth of it for yourself. As the principal witness, as the one who first turned the light on a dead end in the dark, I hold that my testimony is of utmost importance and should be considered first of all."

"You are right, Miss Turner," Dobbins said; "if you saw the dead man and those two people in the room, there can be no doubt but that one of them fired the fatal shot. The question is, which one?"

"That ought to be easy for a detective to discover," Miss Turner said, carelessly.

The woman's face was almost distorted by fury.

Goddard looked at her curiously. Why should she be so wrought up over the matter? Why so bitter toward Nancy Raynor, and inferentially, toward Finley? Was she in love with the dead man? Or with Finley?

And then Miss Mattie broke in again.

"Oh, Nan," she cried, in a wailing tone, "oh, Nancy, why did you do it? I saw you—I saw you drop pellets in Douglas's teacup—twice I saw you—"

"Did you do that, Mrs. Raynor?" Fraser first at her, suddenly.

"Yes—!" faltered Nan. "Yes—I did."

CHAPTER VII

The Sole Cleft

The afternoon sun shone brightly on the great beds of blossoms at Flower Acres.

The funeral of Douglas Raynor had taken place, and the family had gathered again on the western terrace for the tea that was daily served there.

The law had stayed the investigation of the tragedy until after the last rites were held for the victim, but even now the sinister figure of the detective was seen coming toward them.

"I say," declared Kent, "that's too bad. Nan mustn't be interviewed now. She's all in with nervous excitement and fatigue. That detestable Dobbins person can surely wait till tomorrow—"

"I'll tell him so," said Ezra Goddard, quietly, and he rose and went to meet Dobbins.

"Come and talk to me first," Goddard said, leading the detective into the library. "Surely you don't want to intrude upon Mrs. Raynor just now. You're on the wrong track, Dobbins. Mrs. Raynor never shot her husband—"

"Then Finley did it. It rests between the two. And at any rate, she was poisoning him. Why, it's an open and shut case. Here's the lady, with an elderly husband, who is undoubtedly—positively cruel to her, and here's a younger man, in love with her and she with him—"

"Hold on there, Dobbins."

"You can't deny it. I find that Finley was a rejected suitor when she married old Raynor—for his wealth, of course. Now, she's stood two years or thereabouts of the old man, and she just gave out. She couldn't put up with him any longer. So, she being a deep sort, takes to a slow poisoning process. Three different people have told me they have seen her slipping little white tablets into the tea cup or wine glass of her husband."

Flowers Evangelistic Party Meeting Rapid Success in Revival at First M.E. Church

SERMONS MEET WITH APPROVAL

Mrs. Flowers is Well Received Here

The Flowers revival that has been running since last Sunday is attracting city wide attention. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church, south. The crowds have come from the very beginning and great interest was shown at the first service. The Flowers party is composed of Evangelist and Mrs. R. L. Flowers and A. J. Flowers, who have shown the Port Arthur people that they know just what to do to make a revival a successful one.

Evangelist Flowers is a preacher of unusual ability. His sermons are full of thought and he delivers them in a forceful way; he deals with the sins of Port Arthur in a way that show the hideousness of them and, according to those who have heard him preach, he uses plain Port Arthur English and no one needs to go away after hearing him and be in the dark as to whom he is talking to. He says if a fellow can sleep in a briar patch then he can sleep in his services. There is not a dull minute in his meetings. From the time the services start there is something going on.

Mrs. Flowers Heard
Mrs. R. L. Flowers has occupied the pulpit several times this week and has captured the hearts of those who have heard her. Seldom does one hear a woman speaker that has such splendid flow of language as Mrs. Flowers. She never wants for a word and the crowds are held spell-bound under her very magnetic messages. The combination of the evangelist and his wife taking turns in preaching is a very unique one.

A. J. Flowers, a brother of the evangelist, is a general utility man. He is the advance man and Sunday school worker and is a specialist in church publicity. This week he has had from six to a dozen people at the church hard at work getting things in shape for a great gathering. He believes that if a revival is to amount to very much that the entire town must feel the influence of the meetings. This coming week a different delegation each night will be in the meetings. A special section of seats will be reserved for these delegations.

Special Nights
On Monday night Mr. Flowers has arranged for the Ladies club and organizations of the city to be present. Tuesday night the Methodist church will turn out en masse. Wednesday night will be labor union night. Thursday night will be lodge night. All lodges in Port Arthur are invited to come and occupy the reserved section. Friday night will be high school and young people's night. Saturday night the American Legion, the national guards and the college will be the special delegations. Suitable messages will be given on these occasions. Besides these special delegations there will be some special services for married women and men only, high school girls and high school boys. The program of the Flowers means work. They believe if the meeting is to make headway the entire church membership must work.

McKinney to Have Streets Numbered

McKINNEY, Texas, Oct. 30.—McKinney is soon to have a complete and uniform system of house numbering put into effect throughout the length and breadth of the city limits, to which all residence and business property will be made to conform, as a result of the combined efforts of the chamber of commerce, co-operating with the city commission.

The streets have been surveyed by a civil engineer and an official map of all real estate within the city limits and the correct size and number given of each lot and parcel. Every twenty-five-foot frontage in the business district will be given a number and there will be no duplication or confusion of numbers, such as exists at present.

One may know every thing that history says about Jesus Christ, and never have known Jesus as a personal Saviour.

Centenary Move of Methodism Carries Christs' Word to Slums

Millions Raised to Spread Gospel of Religion To Foreign Fields While Financial Move Goes Over

Methodism is on the march. It is a militant church and to be on the move is therefore normal. Wesley began a fresh Christian crusade. As fast as America was settled Methodist services were established. Soon the country was covered with churches. Then the church was challenged to larger advance and she caught the vision of continental conquests.

The challenge was presented to the church to undertake more seriously the Christian possibilities of the generation. This movement was called the Methodist Centenary. The three Methodisms united in the task: The Methodist church of Canada, the Methodist Episcopal church, south, and the Methodist Episcopal church, north.

The program included the largest use of the laymen in its work; an enlarged educational plan; Christian stewardship; a more definite and devoted evangelistic work both at home and abroad. The whole program was based on world surveys revealing needs over a five-year period in home and foreign fields. It was found that there was needed $80,000,000 for the work. Then there was asked $25,000,000 more in reconstruction work following the world war. All the other benevolent funds increased the total to $115,000,000. This huge sum was intensively solicited on the five-year basis and was for the most part generously subscribed in a campaign which culminated May 31, 1919, and was a marvel to the religious and financial world.

The Centenary ended May 31, 1924. The exact amount raised is not yet known, but it will be between eighty and ninety million dollars.

Its work is found in the slums of the cities, the frontier district, the foreigners on our shores, and wherever there is a need for such a program. In the foreign field the work includes China, Japan, Korea, Philippines, Malaysia, Dutch East Indies, India, Burma, Liberia, Angola, Belgian Congo, Rhodesia, Mozambique, Union of South Africa, Mexico, Panama, Costa Rica, Peru, Bolivia, Chile, Argentina, Uruguay, France, Spain, Italy, Jugoslavia, Bulgaria, Albania, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Russia, Baltic Provinces (Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania), North Africa (Algeria, Tunisia, Tripoli, Cyrenaica, Morocco), and the Madeira Islands.

While the amount of money raised was not fully up to the needs it was doubled and trebled more than ever raised before. It enabled the church to put on a program that put new life into the church and an energy and enthusiasm into fields that has brought marvelous results. Last year the increase in new members was larger in the foreign field than at home. This will probably be the beginning of a great movement when the church abroad will begin to overtake the home church. The children will soon be as large as the parent and then will outstrip her. There is a new spirit of Christian evangelism and Christian training being born in fields where five years ago was marked by failure. The churches at home have caught a vision of world needs that will never grow dim. A definite desire of those who have to help those who have not has been engendered at home, and the co-operation of Christians with a world view is here.

Co-Operation Seen In Churches Here

One of the pleasing evidences of advance in the growth of the city in ideals is the increased co-operation which exists among the pastors and members of various churches. The Federated Missionary society is a valuable addition to religious activities, and the service to culture, social service, and to spiritual progress is an important one.

The Ministerial association is harmoniously working toward mutual understanding and co-operation, and increased fellowship among the ministers is evident. One can hardly estimate the possibilities which lie before the church people in the effort to impress Christian ideals on the community in this condition continues and improves. Most people recognize in our day that the best way to bring about such a result is to sow the seeds of brotherhood and fellowship, rather than to abolish strife by the vain effort to bring all into one fold by conquest and debate. The more imperfect people are in their development, the more they magnify their points of difference with each other. And the more they grow in culture and spiritual power, the more they grow in magnanimity.

Big Gravel Plant Opens at Smithville

SMITHVILLE, Texas, Oct. 30.—M. E. Many of this city and associates of Houston have formed a partnership in the sand and gravel business and will open up an extensive plant on the Colorado river here and will contract to furnish material for highways and other industries.

A huge caterpillar motor-driven shovel is being installed which will load thirty or forty cars a day. Later a gravel washing plant will be put in.

When Americans laugh and scoff at the old homely virtues that made our forefathers the people they were then it is time for us to blush with shame.

FLOWERS MEETING IN OHIO CONVERTED 1500

The R. L. Flowers evangelistic party of Dallas, conducted a community revival in the Municipal auditorium in Canton, Ohio, from March 23, to April 13. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 4,500 and 1,000 were turned away at the first service. For three weeks Evangelist and Mrs. Flowers preached a plain, practical, yet powerful gospel to thousands of people. Hundreds were converted and reclaimed and as a result of the revival 1,500 united with the different churches of Canton. It has been estimated that 75,000 people heard the Flowers while in Canton, and that on the last day at least 10,000 people heard them.

A great chorus choir of 400 voices sang to the delight of the thousands who attended the revival services.

The Flowers community revival, considered from every angle, was the best Canton has ever had. The Flowers party made a great impression.

There are four great American institutions, the church, the home, the school and the government. When we as Americans neglect either one we are doomed to die.

METHODISM IN CITY DEFINED

Divisions Not Affecting Relations Here

The Methodist Episcopal church, frequently distinguished by the addition of the word "north" from the M. E. church, south, is one of the earliest factors in the religious agencies of the city. The public is slowly learning that the word "north" should not be added, but that the name of the church is properly "The Methodist Episcopal church," which was the name of the church before the division into two bodies occurred. When the separation occurred, it became necessary for one of the bodies to have a term which would distinguish it from the other, so that titles to property might not be confused. The church in the south, therefore, added the word "south" to its title, and it is properly entitled in law "The Methodist Episcopal church, south."

This term has neither political nor sentimental significance, but is purely geographical and for the purpose of distinction as indicated herein.

For years a large amount of co-operative work has been done by these two bodies, and fraternal interchange of courtesies has occurred constantly. No line of doctrinal cleavage, nor sectional feeling divides the majority of its preachers or members, as recent events have served to show, even if there yet linger some in each church who have confused the division of the church in 1844 with the Civil war of 1861.

In this city no more cordial relations exist between any of the pastors than that which exists between the pastors of the two Methodist churches here. The steady tendency has been to increase team work between the churches for the common good of Methodism, and for the welfare of the city. The M. E. church has been a constant ally of social service and all forms of welfare work, and Port Arthur college, the Mary Gates hospital, the public charities, the public library and other public institutions have a debt to this church which is gratefully recognized.

The church is housed in a beautiful building, and is in the midst of a pleasing environment on Stilwell and Lake Shore. Every kind of work which Methodists undertake is being done by this congregation under the leadership of its faithful and cultured pastor, and the influence of its activities is constantly felt. From the pen of the pastor, Dr. Rodgers, we have in this issue a short, but illuminating statement of the splendid work done by the Centenary in this great denomination. When the total of the Centenary in southern Methodism is added to the figures he gives, it will be seen that the two Methodisms have given nearly $200,000,000 to cure the ills of the world. The movement for the unification of the two Methodisms has been a revelation to the public, and in some measure to the membership of both churches. Although it may be delayed, it is inevitable that they will find the way to reunite and the increase of power, together with economy and progress will be a speedy result. Both the pastors in this city favor the early attainment of this desirable end.

Conspiracy Charge In Oklahoma Dropped

MUSKOGEE, Oct. 30.—Joe Witt, Muskogee county registrar, and five precinct registrars were freed of charges of conspiring to prevent qualified electors from registering after a hearing here Monday before R. M. Mountcastle, United States commissioner, because of lack of prosecution.

Commander 32d Division is Dead

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Major General William G. Haan, retired, who commanded the Thirty-second division in France, died at Mount Alto Veterans' Hospital here after an illness of several months.

Rev. R. J. Flowers, evangelist, and A. J. his brother, who are actively engaged in the First M. E. church, south, revival.

If the Methodists were the only ones who were to get to heaven, the most of heaven would be for rent. I am glad there are people from every church that are going in that narrow way.

M. E. Church, South Missionary Field

The M. E. church, south, was missionary work in Mexico, Cuba, Brazil, Africa, China, Japan, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Russia, Poland and special workers as missionaries in various fields occupied by the American Bible Society. The Canadian Methodists and the British Wesleyan Methodists have missionaries in other fields. Read the list of fields covered by the Methodist Episcopal church in the splendid article by Dr. Rodgers and add the list herein and you will see that Methodist missionaries are everywhere. The general boards of the several churches are avoiding overlapping and duplication, and the result is that the church has spread over a wide area. The sun never rises or sets on the Methodist church. It is a world-wide force and is making itself felt as a factor in promoting the unification of mankind. Other great denominations also avoid competition for the most part, and thus help to hasten the advance of Christianity among the nations.

The church is God's fighting machine. We need some more militant songs written. Some that will stir up the fighting spirit. The fight the church is putting up is not against flesh and blood, but against the powers of the evil world around about us.

Climax Contest Planned to Close Year's Work at Church During Flowers Revival

ENTHUSIASM IN WORK IS SHOWN

Increased Attendance Follows Activities

Shown in the Sunday school contest at the M. E. church, south, last Sunday, there being an increase in attendance and in offerings in all departments.

The contest is planned to last four Sundays to close out the conference year and the leaders have decided to call the contest "The Climax Contest." Dr. V. A. Godbey is offering a $10 gold piece to the class that has the greatest increase in enrollment in attendance and in offerings during the four weeks, while A. J. Flowers, special worker in the revival here, is offering to the teacher whose class makes the best record a $10 Oxford Teacher's Bible and the Sunday school is going to give a $4 Bible to the teacher whose class makes the second best record.

On October 19, the attendance in the Sunday school was 610 and last Sunday the attendance was 631. The enrollment of the school is 848. The teachers and officers have accepted a goal of 1,000 attending Sunday school by the time the Climax Contest closes.

The following was the attendance record last Sunday: Beginners Department 66, Primary Department 89, Juniors 116, Intermediate 61, Seniors 44, Young Peoples 42, Adults 203. Total in all departments 631.

Classes making a perfect record in attendance October 19 were: Miss Mary Margaret Ward, Mrs. H. D. James, R. J. Brown, Mrs. J. C. Hamilton, On October 26: Mrs. L. D. Landrum, Miss Louise Landrum, Mrs. L. B. Fisher, Miss Evelyn Curry, Mrs. Sam Nickles.

The talk made by Mr. Flowers to the Sunday school last Sunday was well received. Among other things, he said:

"The great drama of the Sunday school is the weekly not weekly teachers' meeting. It has the same relation to the Sunday school that the directors' meeting has to the bank.

"The greatest agency in the church to conserve the result of a soul winning campaign, the results of a financial campaign or the results of any religious effort is the Sunday school.

"The lesson of the Sunday school teacher if the long day has been forgotten, but his life lives on forever. The superintendent who always opens with three hymns and a prayer should close with a parole for life, self-imposed.

"After all, the pastor is the one man with major responsibility for the success or failure of the Sunday school. The school's efficiency will not rise much higher than the level of the pastor's vision, the intelligence and carefulness of his leadership.

"Now, the beginning of our winter's work is the time to see all our Sunday school tires are pumped up and that our Sunday school engine is hitting on all cylinders.

"The Sunday school problem in our work is not a boy and girl problem; it is a teacher's problem.

"A cradle roll investment means a church roll dividend.

"Officers and teachers of the Sunday school have other responsibilities besides teaching the word. They are teachers of morals, their examples are imitated. If the teacher does not attend the preaching service 9 times out of 10 the pupils do not attend preaching.

"A blundering teacher or officer has no right to expect that a 'special providence' will overlook his blunders, simply because the school in which he teaches is called some sacred name.

"The other day we saw a big sign across the front of an old looking little tailor shop. It read 'Misfits a Specialty.' How appropriate for the teachers' staff of so many Sunday schools."

Hugo Man Named Secretary of Synod

HUGO, Okla., Oct. 30.—The Rev. Dr. W. A. Rolle, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, will be elected clerk and treasurer of the Oklahoma Presbyterian Synod for three years as a result of action of the synod at its session at the Goodland Indian Academy near here. Other officers will hold office for one year only. The Rev. Hotchkiss of the Okla.-Presbyterian College at Durant, was named moderator.

One of the outstanding moves of the synod was the appointment of a committee of seven to begin work immediately on the coordination of Presbyterian colleges and schools of Oklahoma. It is planned to raise the standing of the Presbyterian College at Durant to Class A. It is now rated as a junior college. An adjourned session of the synod, to be held Nov. 19, will deal exclusively with educational institutions.

The synod will meet in the Central Presbyterian church at Oklahoma City next year.

SCHOOL FINISHED IN PAULS VALLEY, OKLA.

PAULS VALLEY, Okla., Oct. 29.—The Davis school district has just finished a two-room school building and the Bethel school is letting a contract for the same kind of building and equipment. Mason Hart, county superintendent, reports that one-half of the rural schools are open and that the fields will be cleared of cotton so that the other half will be at work by Nov. 1.

I know some married men who would rather be out in an automobile riding with some painted vamp than to be at home looking after their wife and children.

RANDOM SHOTS IN EVANGELISTS SERMONS

There is a lot of difference in knowing about Jesus and knowing Him. Some people know a lot about McKinley, Bryan, Roosevelt and Wilson and yet they never know these notables.

The ignorance of the Bible is an appalling thing. Boys and girls should be taught the Bible.

I can prove there is a hell easier than you can prove there is a heaven.

The crying need of this country is for the people to stop and think of God. I do not know anything that will help to do it like a revival of religion.

There are a lot of folks who do not believe in revivals. Well, neither does the devil.

Why anyone will unite with the church and then go out and drag its good name in the dirt by living a hypocritical life is more than I can understand.

One who lives as a hypocrite never deceives anyone.

If this revival is to conserve it will be done largely through the Sunday school. That is the reason why we are going out after an attendance of 1,000.

The time has come in America when protestantism must look arms and present a mighty phalanx against the attacks of the devil.

I believe there is a personal devil. He is at work in Port Arthur today, and a multitude of Port Arthur citizens are his faithful subjects.

If some of the church folk of this town were to leave town or die they would never be missed so far as a spiritual force is concerned.

We believe in a revival of politics, business, school building, etc. Why not have a revival of religion?

You can't do the Lord's work with the devil's outfit.

You can't fight the devil with fire. Fire is his specialty.

Some business men are afraid to line up for the church because they are afraid they will lose some customers.

If we treated our neighbors like we treat God they would chuck us with stove wood.

Some married women had rather be down at some drug store flirting with some pin-headed dulle than to be at home keeping the home fires burning.

Magnetic Sermons Given Tribute For Way Sin Was Scored as Minister Writes Word About Revivalist

Baltimore, Md., October 20, 1924.

"On September 28 we began our yearly revival with Evangelist R. L. Flowers of Dallas, Texas, in charge of the meeting. These meetings continued for three weeks resulting in a genuine revival for every department of the church." Dr. H. M. Winston of Baltimore, writes in recommending the Flowers.

"From the very first the Flowers won our hearts. The meetings grew in interest and intensity with every service. Not only did my church attend the revival but people came from all parts of Baltimore. As an evangelistic party I do not believe the Flowers party have many equals in the country. Their work in Baltimore was certainly as satisfactory as I have ever had in old Brantly church and I have been her pastor for over 38 years."

"As a preacher, Evangelist Flowers is convincing, magnetic and earnest. He scores sin and yet with it all he is not abusive. The enthusiasm in his message and the pull in his appeal make him well nigh invincible."

"During my pastorate in Brantly church I have never had a more satisfactory speaker fill my pulpit than Mrs. Flowers. Her message is well thought out. Her knowledge of the Bible, her command of the English language and her wonderful insight into human nature has made her one of the leading women evangelists in America. She is a perfect magnet for women. Her special women meetings in my church were a wonderful blessing to the people."

"Evangelist Flowers is pioneering in one feature of his meetings. He has added to his party a Sunday school specialist whose duty it is to build up the Sunday school interest during the revival. This special worker is A. J. Flowers who for 15 years has given his entire time to work among young people. His work in our church resulted in an enlarged program for the Sunday school, new enthusiasm in the Sunday school and a large increase in attendance."

"The program of the Flowers' is adapted to the largest church as well as to the smallest one. I especially commend them to any pastor or community anywhere that needs a revival."

U. S. Files Ship Suit After 4-Year Lapse

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 30.—If you're given to walking on Uncle Sam's toes, don't think that he's forgotten the incident just because it has been a matter of 4, 15, 20, 25 years ago.

Four years ago the steam tug Messenger was towing the steamship Lake Gadsden, United States vessel, in Bolivar Roads. The Messenger went aground and the two vessels collided. In October, suit was filed against the owners of the Messenger for $1,500 and when the tug made port, she was immediately seized.

5,000 OLD TEXTBOOKS COLLECTED, DESTROYED

PALESTINE, Texas, Oct. 20.—More than 5,000 textbooks used in the Anderson county schools for the past five or six years have been collected and destroyed by county Superintendent of schools W. E. Wylie, under instructions of the state department of education. The books are civics, arithmetic and geographies, which have been replaced by new books.

Publishers allow a certain sum on old books, but rather than pay freight to the point where they would have to be sold, they were ordered destroyed by the county superintendent.

RETURNS TO PULPIT AFTER 50 YEARS

TYLER, Texas, Oct. 30.—Returning to the pulpit from which he addressed several of the same parishioners in 1875, Dr. W. D. Powell, Louisville, Ky., delivered a sermon in connection with the 75 million campaign. Dr. Powell resigned the pastorate here 50 years ago and has since been a Baptist missionary in Mexico in addition to preaching several years in Louisville.

Active Worker

Rev. B. A. Watson, assistant pastor of the First M. E. church, south, who is actively engaged in personal work in the Flowers meeting here.

Highlights From Mrs. Flowers' Talks

Often those who criticize young people most do the least to help them.

Some people give their children 50 cents for the movies on Saturday night and on Sunday morning give them a penny for the Sunday school.

Too often we substitute self assurance for self control.

Many people consider school, clothes, and food a necessity, but the church a luxury.

Modern chaperones are blind, deaf and dumb. They neither hear, see or speak.

The modern woman is potentially the same woman she has ever been—but with new freedom.

The value of a cook stove is determined not by how much nickel it has but by its good for baking. Too many women are like second hand oil stoves—they look alright but can't be heated up for religious service.

Some women are great in civic and social life, but sink away into insignificance in the Lord's work. Such women are traitors to God.

Where do you wear out your rug, before the dressing table or in the place of study and prayer?

The modern woman's responsibilities are as large as her relationships.

When people say "please show me a woman's sphere," I reply "please show me the woman."

Some women's influence is like the sweet perfume of roses permeating the entire city while others are like bitter weeds which if touched give off bitter stench.

If some of you neglected your children like you neglect Jesus Christ when you returned home they would be hungry, soiled, and in the street crying for bread.

If you neglected your husbands like you neglect Jesus Christ they would not live with you.

We need more homes where more thought is given to the Bible than is given to the automobile.

MAN, WIFE CHARGED WITH WHITE SLAVERY

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 30.—Violation of the Mann act was charged against J. P. Culp, Ashur, Oklahoma, and his second wife following their arrest here last night. Culp is alleged to have crossed into Kansas with the girl who there became the second Mrs. Culp, after deserting his first wife, and three children in Oklahoma. The couple pleaded not guilty and are being held in jail here.

It is an alarming thing the way homes are going to pieces in this country.

EVANGELIST HAS VARIED PROGRAM

Every Member of Flowers Party Good Speaker

The Flowers evangelist party have an unusual program of work for the cities, and its adaptation to modern needs is apparent to those who are familiar with the conditions in industrial centers. While the gospel call rings out in old way, the combination of workers presents an ever varying program, but there is unity in this variety. Every member of the party is a good speaker, and each has made a specialty of some part of the work of a revival. Each one has a personality which makes appeal and adds to the effectiveness of the work.

The special work of Mr. A. J. Flowers, who has had nine years of experience as a Y. M. C. A. worker, and subsequently six years as a Sunday school specialist, is of permanent value in conserving the work. Much evangelistic work has been of small value because of the lack of such service. Inspirational addresses have caused the church to receive new converts, but the pastor has had an impossible problem left in the follow up work. The people drifted back to their places and were soon lost sight of for lack of adequate information concerning them. The several methods which are being used in this revival provide for continued activity in the most business like way. A card record system contains the names of those who attend, and the pastor not only knows what persons attended the revival, but this method shows him who failed to do so in the ranks of his own membership.

Evangelist Flowers has gained influence and leadership every time he has held a service, and Mrs. Flowers is surprising, informing and stirring her auditors when ever she leads a service or makes an address. Many have already united with the church, and the revival is only starting. The outlook is more than encouraging—it is inspiring.

PUT OFF COTTON PICKING FOR RICE

ORANGE, Texas, Oct. 30.—In an effort to harvest rice crops before the rainy season started, farmers in this section of the state have delayed the picking of their cotton crops with the result that there are many acres of cotton still unpicked in this country. Practically all of the rice crop has been threshed and the greater part was gathered and threshed without rain striking it, thereby giving Orange county farmers a good grade of rice for market.

HUNTSVILLE BAPTISTS RAISE CHURCH FUND

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 30.—Members of the Baptist church are sponsoring a final drive here in an effort to raise the last quotas for a new $45,000 church. The new building will occupy the site of the old church erected and used since 1849.

TRUCK FARM PRODUCE CURTAILED BY DROUGHT

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 30.—Houston is paying and will pay in dollars and cents for drought which has extended unbroken over practically the whole of southeast Texas.

Truck farm production has been greatly curtailed and retarded and products being shipped in are retailing at greatly advanced prices. Merchants declare that Houston will be forced to call upon outside markets for help in supplying the city during the winter.

'FATHER AND SON' WEEK IN HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 30.—"Father and Son Week," November 9-16, will be celebrated in Houston this year with even greater interest than attended the meetings in 1913. All Houston churches have endorsed the spirit of the week and plans are completed for "Father and Son" banquets in practically every club and church in the city.

THRALL BAPTISTS BUY LOT FOR NEW CHURCH

PRaises Loading Facilities Here

Chilean Line Marine Head Visits Port Arthur

Oil loading facilities equal to any at other terminals on the Gulf coast are to be found in Port Arthur, and the quick dispatch for loading ships at both the Texas Company and the Gulf Refining company here has elicited praise from operators of the Chilean Steamship company's two tankers which made their first trips into Port Arthur this week.

Thus declares J. McKinley, of New York, marine superintendent of the Chilean Steamship company, who is in Port Arthur with the tankers Chucky and Toco, loaded out with cargoes of fuel oil for the Chilean Exploration company's copper industries in Chile, the former vessel taking cargo at the Texas Company and the latter at the Gulf company.

"Whether or not the company's tankers will make Port Arthur regularly for cargoes depends, of course, upon contracts between our company and the oil companies," McKinley said. "I do not know whether or not the Chucky and the Toco will call at Port Arthur for cargo again, as such arrangements are made through the New York offices," he said.

As an example of the vast amount of fuel oil needed for the Chilean Exploration company's industries in Chile, McKinley cited the consumption of one of the power houses, which uses 3,200 barrels of fuel oil daily. The two tankers Chucky and Toco are operated by the steamship company to Chile, about 35 days being required for the round trip to Gulf ports and back to the ports of Tocopilla and Antofagasta.

Judge James Finds Heads Used as Pegs

"Hat pegs are what most democrats are using their heads for these days rather than as means of thinking," Judge W. F. James, veteran democrat who has participated in Texas elections more than a half century, declared today in commenting on the political situation.

"Every hundred per cent American citizen has a head to think with. A great many of us (below par) use our heads merely as hat peg and depend on the preachers, politicians and lawyers to think for us," he said.

Two Stills, Booze and Man Taken In Raid

Two stills of 75 and 50 gallons capacity, 15 gallons of whisky and 17 barrels of mash was the capture of Deputy Sheriff John Foote and Constable Dick Parsley late Tuesday in a raid in the marsh region eight miles from the city in the Port Acres area.

A man giving his name as Ed Franklin was arrested at the time and Wednesday made bond of $500 before Judge W. F. James to await preliminary hearing. He is charged with manufacturing and possession of whisky.

Creager Accompanies Jurist's Body Home

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman from Texas, arrived in Houston last night to accompany the body of his father-in-law, Judge John L. Terrell, who died in Brownsville, late Wednesday, to Terrell, Texas, for burial.

Funeral services for the well known jurist who died after a lingering illness, will be held at Terrell Friday morning. Services will be conducted by the Masonic fraternity of which he is a past grand master, 1897-98.

Hangar's Prophecy on Fergusonism

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD News Staff Writer

James E. Ferguson, the stormy petrel of Texas politics was an unknown when he jumped into the political arena in the year 1914. He had been everything from a plowboy to a banker before he became the successor of Oscar E. Colquitt. In a commonwealth where the pro democrats are in the majority, he wrested the nomination from Thomas H. Ball, a life-long pro and champion of equal suffrage.

He had a plank that appealed to the tenant farmer; he promised, if elected, to obtain state appropriations for the aid of rural schools; he promised to veto any liquor bill introduced by either faction and sent to him for approval. He was elected over the protests of the pro-democrats and many of the machine leaders of the anti. All who read and think know what transpired during the first term of Ferguson as governor.

He had his land tenure bill passed; he secured an appropriation for two million dollars annually for the aid of rural schools, his reign was neither peaceful nor stormy; he joined forces with Joseph Weldon Bailey in 1916, kept the forty immortals at home, defeated Thomas R. Love for national committeeman and sent forty new immortals to the St. Louis convention where Woodrow Wilson was given a second nomination. He was refused a second term by his political enemies and forced to fight for a re-nomination.

A Deadly Fight

Charles H. Morris, a country banker from East Texas, was his rival. This was another fight within the party, bitter as gall and as deadly as political animosity between man and man could make it. All who read and think in Texas know what happened after Ferguson had vanquished Morris and was given a second term.

He was impeached and ousted from office by the legislature and William P. Hobby became his successor. Will H. Hanger was the leading legal adviser of Ferguson. When the verdict was announced Hanger said to the writer: "This is a crucifixion and not a trial. Mark my prediction: As long as the man lives Fergusonism will be the paramount political issue in Texas."

Those who are opposed to the former governor do not hesitate to say it was not a crucifixion but all the democratic voters of Texas, friends and foe alike of the former governor, must agree that Hanger was something of a prophet when he predicted that so long as Ferguson lived he would be the stormy petrel of Texas politics and ever an issue in political campaigns.

Hobby served the unexpired term of Ferguson and announced for re-election. Ferguson although disfranchised from holding state office, made the race against him. Hobby won by a large majority and women cast primary ballots for the first time. In 1920 Ferguson declared himself out of the democratic party and the candidate of the American party for president. Thousands of his followers went with him.

Ferguson Backed Paddy

He came back in 1922 as a democratic candidate for United States senator and the state committee, which was anti-Ferguson, ordered his name printed on the official ballot. He ran second in the runoff, in a large field, with Earle B. Mayfield winning first place. He backed George Paddy against Mayfield at the general election.

In 1924 it is not necessary to elaborate on what happened. The democratic state committee, with the same chairman and a slightly changed personnel, denied Ferguson a place on the primary ballot but ruled that Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson had all the qualifications necessary for a candidate for the high office of governor,

POLITICAL RACE ON FINAL LAP

Oklahoma Papers Refuse Senatorial Support

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 30.—Faced with the most perplexing political situation since statehood, Oklahoma candidates swung into the final stages of their campaigns today with most interest centered on the senatorial race.

Both candidates for the United States senate have been rejected support by many newspapers of the state. Former Governor Jack Walton, democratic candidate, has been denounced because of his record in office and his attacks against the ministry. W. B. Pine, republican nominee, is an oil man, which made him undesirable to many.

"There will be approximately 600,000 votes cast in Oklahoma, a greater number than ever before," W. B. Pine said today, "and I feel safe in predicting that my majority in the senate race will reach 100,000."

A similar statement was issued a short time later by Walton. Walton closes his campaign with a street meeting here tomorrow night.

Because of the many denunciations made against Walton, the largest crowd ever to assemble for a political meeting is expected to hear him.

Cameos: Mary Philbin in "The Gaiety Girl."

Strand: Ernest Torrence in "The Side Show of Life."

Liberty: Richard Talmadge in "American Manners."

Green Tree: "Babbitt."

"THE GAITY GIRL"

Mary Philbin will be seen at the Cameo theatre today in "The Gaiety Girl."

The story relates the romance of a young girl, forced on the stage by poverty, tricked by lies into an abhorrent marriage, and saved by a novel climax.

Joseph J. Dowling, who played the title role in "The Miracle Man," appears as her stern grandfather, descendant of a race of kings; James O. Barrows, character actor, is seen as the servant of the ancient family; Grace Darmond, famous for her beautiful gowns, appears as the dashing show girl who befriends the little aristocrat in her venture into theatre-dom, and William Haines is seen as the lover.

AT THE PEOPLES

Appearing in a story which gives full play to her personality, Betty Compton is seen at her best in "The Enemy Sex" at the Peoples theatre. In the supporting cast are Percy Marmont, Huntly Gordon, Kathryn Williams, Sheldon Lewis and De Witt Jennings.

The story deals with the successful efforts of Dodo Baxter, a chorus girl, to outwit five rich men who are smitten with her charms. Packed with thrills and pepped with the brand of humor for which James Cruze is famous, the plot marches on without a hitch to the final smashing climax.

ANNA Q. NILSSON STARS

Anna Q. Nilsson and Ernest Torrence are seen today at the Strand theatre in "The Side Show of Life."

It deals with the adventures of a circus clown who becomes a general during the war, falls in love with a titled, English lady only to come to the bitter realization, when the war is over, that once a clown, always a clown! In a series of heart-tugging situations a powerful climax is reached, and from this point on the picture marches on to a happy and triumphant finish.

AT THE LIBERTY

"American Manners" comes to the Liberty theatre tomorrow.

It is filled with the romance of the seven seas; replete with the color-

WALL STREET JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Wall Street found in the conservative victory in England the impulse needed to shake the market from the narrow rut from which price movements had been confined for nearly a week.

Overthrow of the labor party in Great Britain was in many respects the most crushing blow ever delivered by radicalism.

Speculative leaders quickly broke away from the narrow area in which they had been fluctuating, swinging into an advance which resulted in gains in numerous representative rails and industrials. Merchandising shares scored the greatest advances, but the general list was not far behind.

Yellowjacket Chances Even Against Houston High

175-Pound Kattman In Tiger Backfield Feared By Locals

Yellowjackets Work Hard on Breaking Up Passing Attack—Special Train to Houston Still in Doubt

PORT ARTHUR doesn't know which way to think when it comes to the Yellowjacket fray Saturday.

From one side comes the gloomy word that Port Arthur hasn't a chance against the team that smeared the Yellowjackets 28 to 0 last year. From the other side comes the word that the high school boys are in good condition, have overwhelming whippersnapper coming their way, and are going into the Houston Central affair Saturday determined to mop up.

Out of the high school field the directors of the plan of battle, Messrs. Smith, Sandefur and Hanna are very frank to say that Houston's passes and speed are to be feared greatly, and they know, for Coach Smith scouted the Central-Orange game thoroughly. Houston Central has three backfield stars, Kattman, Sawyer and Hoover. The last two were last spring star dash men in the interscholastic track meet at Austin and were members of the crack Houston relay team that almost won the state title, itself breaking the record only to be beaten again.

Houston Relies on Speed

Orange gave Houston Central a fair battle last week. Houston winning 35 to 6. Port Arthur defeated Orange several weeks before, 78 to 6. Orange showed much better play against Houston than against the Yellowjackets. Throughout the first half at Houston, the Orange team was not topped a great deal by Houston, the half winding up 14 to 6. Orange intercepted a Houston pass and scored on another pass. According to Coach Smith, Kattman is the terror of the Houston backfield. Kattman weighs about 175 pounds and deals misery in plugging the line. As for the air game, Houston still has the same threat that worked some against Port Arthur last year. But the Yellowjackets have been putting in some good looks at practice in intercepting passes and the reports from the field are that the line is charging as never before.

The Yellowjackets are in fairly good shape for Saturday's game, although some too good. All the boys are suffering with colds and some throat, as is the entire town, but otherwise there is not a great deal wrong. "Nabbs" Elliott will hardly be in shape to play Saturday, although he will probably be taken along. Wilmer Butand is not in good condition, although he will probably start the game. Wyble, who has been playing a good game at end in several games when he was substituted, is absolutely ineligible.

Lots of Fight Needed

The discouraging feature this morning was that the special train Saturday probably would not materialize. A disappointingly small number of tickets had been sold through yesterday, characteristic of the lethargic interest being shown. The fact that Beaumont will not play in Houston Saturday, but will wait several weeks, knocked off at least half of the personnel that would have been available for a special train. As it is, the matter of a special train is still not definitely off, but unless a great many tickets are sold today and tomorrow people show more interest the chances are very remote. The BAYLOR HOPES TO REPEAT 0-0 TIE WITH A.-M.

Bridges Reported Building On Defense Alone

WACO, Texas, Oct. 30.—After witnessing the Baylor Bears in their training for the Texas Aggies whom they play here next Saturday, it would appear that Coach Bridges is planning to play the same style of battle as he did last year against the Aggies when he held them to a 0 to 0 tie. The program consists in the main of punting and sending the team down the field under the kicks.

Bridges will play entirely on the defense against Bible's aggression and hope for the breaks to give the Bears a chance to score. The hope that the Bruins had developed their aerial game was a disappointment and they now look as weak as ever when the oval takes to the air. Baylor attempted ten passes in the game against Austin College. Two were intercepted and seven incomplete.

Pittman is doing well with his punts but he suffered an injured knee in the Arkansas game which was hurt again late Saturday. He may have trouble if the knee receives another severe jolt. It was Pittman's kicking last year that kept the ball in the middle of the field and Bridges is training his men to play the same style of game as in the Aggie game last season. Due to the fact that S. M. U., Baylor and Texas A. & M. are the only serious contenders at present for the title, Coach Bridges is becoming cautious and taking no chances of losing his opportunity to stay in the race a little longer. "The Aggies are doped to beat the Bears, but Bridges will build a strong defense in an attempt to get a tie.

Yellowjacket Line Heavier

"Our line is, if anything, a little heavier than theirs," Coach Smith said yesterday. "But the Houston backfield is heavier and faster. This man Kattman, who weighs 175 pounds, is a flash, and every man in their backfield is a 10-foot man and a whiz on passes."

Beaumont Postpones Game With Heights

Beaumont, High supposedly gained a point yesterday afternoon when Director Roy B. Henderson of the interscholastic league at Austin ruled Beaumont would not have to play Houston Heights until after November 11, the date of the Beaumont-Port Arthur game. Beaumont will be idle this week-end, although Coach Dinwiddie has scheduled a scrimmage game for tomorrow with the South Park college reserves. In the meantime the district situation is liable to take on almost any aspect and almost any decision may be expected now before the championship is finally settled. Beaumont originally had been ordered to play Houston Heights on or before Monday.

NAVY TEAM IMPROVES

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—Despite the loss of most of their best players, the Navy's morale continued strong and a marked improvement in both attack and defense was marked at yesterday's long session of dummy scrimmage.

RICE FEARS PASSING

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—Practically all drill on the Ochs schedule on the remaining two nights will be directed toward defense against the highly touted passing attack of the Texas Longhorns.

ILLINI LINEMEN FIGHT

URBANA, Oct. 30.—Zupke kept his Illini gridlers on their toes for the Iowa game by letting it be understood that no player has his position etched. Rivalry for line places added pep to the practice grind.

CURLEY CHICAGO PILOT

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Under personal supervision of Coach Stagg, the Maroons trotted through long signal drill and settled to stiff scrimmage. Bob Curley, who louted Chicago to a tie with Ohio, piloted the team.

South Park College to Play Husky Texas Frosh Today

Several Freshman Fall Down On Grades for Beaumont Fray Today

One of the best football games of the season is promised for Beaumont this afternoon when the South Park College Brahmas, coached by Bull Johnson, meet the University of Texas freshmen, coached by Clyde Littlefield. The game starts at Magnolia field at 3:30.

The State University is reputed to have one of the best freshmen teams in several years, including seven all-state players on its roster. The Beaumont collegians are no slouches, either. Taky Elam will referee today, with Morrison as umpire and Gardner as head linesman.

Baldwin Not to Play

The Texas freshmen, averaging around 180 pounds, arrived in Beaumont this morning from Austin, fit and ready. The South Park boys were given only an eight-minute workout yesterday, just long enough to march down the field twice on signal drill.

The freshmen team starting today will be composed of Higgins, Hunter, Phoenix, McCullough, Adamson, Webb, Hargrove, Joe King, Allen, Muckelroy and Rufus King. Other freshmen making the trip are Pfeiffer, Boykin, Roeder, Landis, Estel, Westerfeldt, J. W. Smith, Lisner and Kearek.

Some of the outstanding stars of the freshmen team, such as Estes, Saxon, Cox, Coffey, Joe Smith and Leo Baldwin did not accompany the team, due to scholastic ineligibility. Mack Saxon was a Temple star and played at tackle for Austin college last year. Baldwin was an all-state backfield man, comprising practically all the strength of the Wichita Falls Cowboys last year. George Coffey, ineligible for today's game, was an all-state man with Wichita Falls.

However, plenty of strength will remain for the frosh. Joe King was an all-state quarterback for Oak Cliff high of Dallas last year. Posey Allen is an all-around backfield from San Marcos Baptist academy. Ox Higgins is a 190-pound all-state end from Dallas. Potty McCullough of Waco is an all-state guard, and Rufus King of Austin was last year rated as one of the best centers in the state in several years.

The freshmen whipped John Tarleton 36 to 7 after the Texas A. & M. varsity had won only 40-0 in their first game. Coach Bull Johnson, fired by Beaumont's slogan of "Gig those Fish," will start the following lineup: Cooke, backfield ends; Hughes, Shirley, tackles; McCullough, Roberts, guards; Gray, center; Braden, Bourgeois, Kinnear, Tatum, backfield.

Billy Evans Says—

West Point Edge Eligibility Lacking Passing Tee

It is rather surprising that the colleges of the country have never seriously objected to football eligibility rules as enforced at West Point.

At a majority of the colleges freshmen are not permitted to play. This makes it possible for an athlete to play only three years of varsity football, provided he has the ability to make the team in his sophomore year.

At West Point no such rules are observed. As a matter of fact many of the Army's best men are former college stars, who have played their allotted three years elsewhere.

For football the athlete of from 22 to 25 is more desirable than the youth of from 18 to 21, all things being equal physically.

The well conditioned athlete of more mature years is much better able to stand up under the grueling that a player must take for 60 minutes of actual playing time.

In any sport other than football the few added years might serve as a handicap but not on the gridiron.

Three of the stars of the 1924 Army eleven won fame elsewhere on the gridiron before receiving an Army appointment. They are gray-beards, veterans, from a football standpoint.

Garbisch, center and captain, one of the best in the country, is serving his eighth year as varsity player. Prior to coming to West Point he starred for four years at W. & J. It is not difficult to figure the handicap some chap of say 18, a sophomore playing his first year of college football, would be up against when facing Garbisch. Hardly square fair.

In the backfield Tiny Hewitt, a former University of Pittsburgh player, and Harry Wilson, a sensation with Penn State last year, comprise much of the Army's offense.

DALLAS PICKS INDIAN PLAYER AS NEW CHIEF

Larry Gardner Will Lead Steers In 1925

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 30.—Larry Gardner, veteran infielder of the Cleveland Indian American league baseball club, will be the player-manager of the Dallas, Texas, league club for the 1925 season. Announcement of Gardner's release from Cleveland to assume the management of the Texas league entry was made here today. Terms involved in the deal were not made public.

It is really surprising that the Army, with this added advantage of using former college stars, does not make a better showing. No institution other than West Point could get away with it without having rival colleges yelling murder.

One of the changes in the football rules for 1924 was the banishment of the artificial tee used in kicking off.

No far this rule has not worked out very well from the standpoint of the team doing the kicking.

With the use of the tee it was possible to regulate the kicks to a certain extent. A high or low ball could be kicked, according to the position of the ball on the tee.

In a recent game I saw at Syracuse with Boston College, not over three good kickoffs were made in the entire game. Often it was necessary to make a second try.

Without a tee the kicks are inclined to be low and fast, giving the team receiving the ball a decided advantage. It offers a chance for interference to form, and makes it almost impossible for the kicking team to stop the man in his tracks.

HARVARD TO USE SUBS

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 30.—A substitute backfield will be used against Boston University, coaches indicated as they sent the second string men through a hard scrimmage.

TIGERS CUT SCRIMMAGE

PRINCETON, Oct. 30.—The varsity was sent through a hard drill of tackling practice and breaking through, scrimmage being omitted as Coach Roper has promised it will be the rest of the season.

Iowa Hawkeyes to Try Hand At Halting Grange Saturday

Army and Yale, LaFayette And Pennsylvania to Meet In East

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Sectional championships may hang on three big games featuring the football card offered for national amusement next Saturday.

Illinois and Iowa meet at Urbana in the most important game of the western conference since the Michigan-Illinois game. It will be a game of more than sectional interest because the whole country will be watching to see if Iowa is able to stop that great star, Red Grange.

Iowa is coached by Ingwersen, a former Illinois associate of Bob Zupke, who may know a lot of things about Illinois' game but Zupke hardly will depend upon last year's stuff. So far this year the Illinois team has not been forced to show a thing more than Grange and it is quite certain that it has more equipment than one running back, great as he is.

Penn Meets La Follette

In the east, where championships can't be decided as officially as they can in the organized middlewest, two undefeated and untied teams meet at Philadelphia in the La Fayette-Pennsylvania game.

La Fayette has been through a harder test this year and is the favorite.

Syracuse plays another important eastern game against Pittsburgh at Syracuse. Pittsburgh has been beaten but Pittsburgh teams are always dangerous.

The Pacific coast will be interested in both games as there is a fine chance to have an eastern championship team play against a representative California team in the annual post season classics. Pennsylvania has a game scheduled with California and Syracuse is to play Southern California.

The coast championship may be cleared Saturday also as California and Southern California meet in the first of their "big three" games.

Two picture games will also add an interesting feature to Saturday's program. The strong Army team plays Yale at New Haven and Notre Dame plays Georgia Tech at South Bend. The betting favors the Army and Notre Dame.

First String Linemen For Texas Saturday

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—A first string line with a second string back will probably be the lineup that Coach Doc Stewart will send in the game with Rice at Houston Saturday. Early season injuries to regulars has kept the Longhorn mentor working overtime to keep a healthy team in the field.

YALE BUCKS FRESHMEN

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 30.—The final scrimmage of the Yale varsity before the Army game was devoted to offensive practice against the scrubs. For the few minutes the scrubs had the ball, they were unable to make any headway using Army formations, while the varsity scored three touchdowns.

Walker Wins Easily From Jock Malone

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 30.—Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, easily won the decision over Jock Malone of St. Paul in a 12-round fight here. Walker's title was not at stake.

ARMY WORKS PASSES

WEST POINT, Oct. 30.—Holding secret practice long after dark by electric lights, the Army went through long practice in preparation for the Yale game. Special attention was paid to the forward passing act.

FLOWERS FLAYS ROADS TO HELL

Evangelist's Wife to Preach At Revival Tonight

Commercialism that chokes the love of God out of men's hearts, amusements, such as dancing, picture shows and gambling, whether over the card table or in gambling halls, people who know not God have no hope of life eternal, and fear that makes men and women shrink from taking a stand for right and holding it at all costs, are the four roads that lead to Hell from Port Arthur, Rev. R. L. Flowers, evangelist, declared in his sermon Wednesday night, in the First M. E. church, south, 1343 Fifth street.

At tonight's revival meeting, at 7:30 o'clock in the church, Mrs. Flowers, wife of the evangelist, will preach the third sermon she has given during the series of meetings. No subject was announced today for Mrs. Flowers's sermon.

Modern Jazz Scored

"What makes the difference between South America and North America is that men settled the southern continent for gold, and the northern continent for God," Evangelist Flowers set forth in his sermon Wednesday night, based on the text from Matthew the seventh chapter, the thirteenth and fourteenth verses, "Enter ye in at the straight gate; for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat." "Many of our shows are so vile that they'd make the devil vomit. The modern dance is voluptuous and diabolical as hell. If our people do not leave of these dances it means degeneracy. The couples in these dances touch all the way from their heads to their toes," Evangelist Flowers declared.

"Gamblers in the country were made in the home around the bridge table. If you stay in the church you must cut out the devil's work and quit playing with his toys." "While in India, Africa, Japan and other foreign countries we find the people crying for the gospel of Christ, there are in Port Arthur many who, if they died tonight, would have no hope for future life. "Men are afraid to live for God. Doctors, merchants, bankers, newspaper men and society women are afraid they'll lose trade, prestige or prosperity if they stand for the right. Because officers are afraid, we have lawlessness. We have been besieged with a bunch of pennut politicians who are afraid to enforce the law."

"Don't let anybody make you believe that there is more booze being drunk today than before prohibition. That's a lie as black as hell. We need men who will dare to tell the truth, who are determined to stand for the right, regardless of what people say. We need some dads and mothers who care more for the souls of their children than for pretended social position," the evangelist declared.

AFRICAN M. E. CONFERENCE

Bishop Johnson In Charge of Session

Annual sessions of the district conference of the African Methodist church, with Bishop Johnson presiding, is in session in the Port Arthur African Methodist church, Rev. Lee, pastor, said today.

This district is one of the largest and most important in Texas, and numbers of ministers and laymen from all sections of Southeast Texas are attending the conference services here this week, according to the local pastor.

Sermons are preached each night, the outstanding address having been given at the opening session Tuesday night by Bishop Brown, preaching his annual conference sermon, Rev. Lee said.

TOOK GEN-LAX

And Gave It To the Whole Family

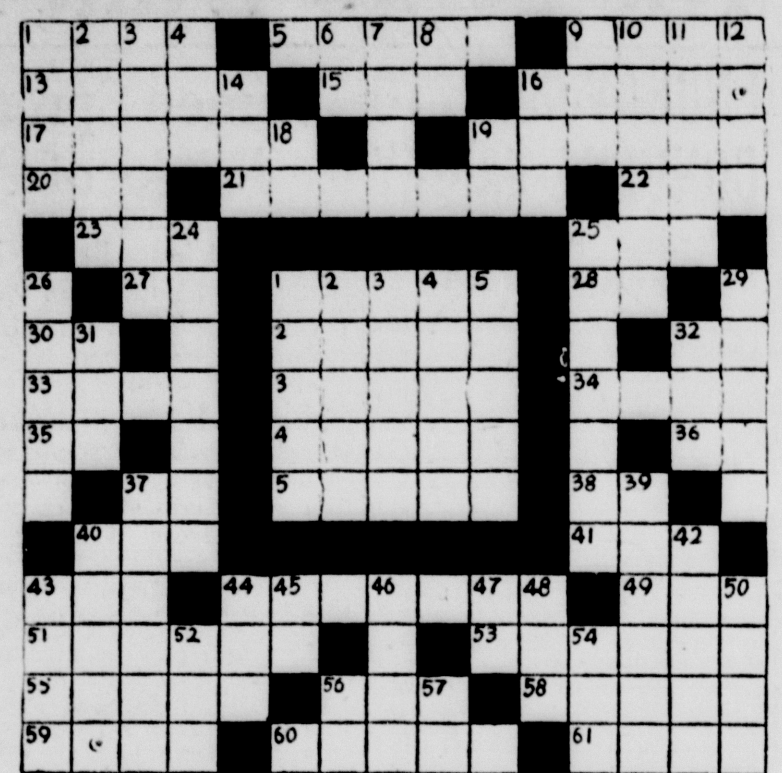

This good old grandmother, beginning to feel the infirmities of age, began to take Gen-Lax. She found it such a good medicine for herself that she gave it to the whole family—clear down to the baby. And she writes a grateful letter telling about the "health and happiness your wonderful medicine brought to me and my family."

Gen-Lax is not just "something mixed up at the drug store." It's an old family doctor's tried and true prescription; turned over to the Gen-Lax Medicine Co., to be sold in drug stores everywhere, at a popular price.

Gen-Lax is both a laxative and a tonic combined. It relieves constipation, biliousness, sick headache, kidney disorders, etc.; and at the same time, it purifies the blood, steadies the nerves and re-vitalizes the whole system. Just as safe for children as for adults; because there's no alcohol, no narcotics or harmful ingredients of any kind in it.

Get a bottle today for the health of your family. Sold by Owl Drug Store and other drug stores.—Adv.

ASTHMA

Yields Quickly to Pleasant Smoke Vapor Treatment

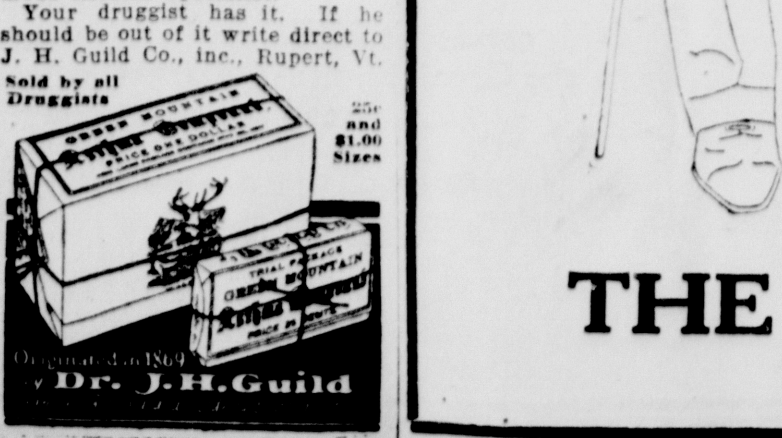

Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis or Hay Fever can never be banished safely or permanently by using internal nostrums. You must get at the inflamed membranes themselves—directly.

Sprays, douches, ointments are ineffective as they cannot reach nearly all the diseased membranes and have no chance to heal where they do not touch.

Green Mountain Asthma Compound makes use of the function of breathing to carry its wonderful medication to every nook and cell of the head, nose, throat and bronchial tubes. The pleasant smoke-vapor is heavily laden with sure relief for Asthma of short or long standing. A reliable aid, too, in clearing up Catarrh, Hay Fever and Bronchitis.

This wonderful remedy is largely vegetable and can harm no part of the system when used in any quantity. It contains no tobacco, no cubebs, and has no habit forming property. It has been used with uniform success by men, women and children since its discovery in 1869 by Dr. Guild, the famous Asthma Specialist.

Your druggist has it. If he should be out of it write direct to J. H. Guild Co., Inc., Rupert, Vt.

FAR EAST CARGO BEING LOADED

4 Vessels Due In Port at Gulf Docks

Two steamships loading out case oil for the Far East are docked at the Texas Company terminals here, the Hanover arriving early today from New Orleans, and the Invincible coming in Wednesday from Galveston. Both vessels are handled here by the Lykes-Sgiteovich firm.

Other arrivals today included the Norwegian steamship Wilfred, from Cardiff, which went into quarantine at Sabine for fumigation before going up to Port Neches to load a part cargo of asphalt. The Wilfred will finish at Port Arthur with case oil.

Expected at the Gulf Refining company terminals today is the Belgian tanker Sunoco, from Antwerp, and two Gulf company tankers, the Gulfking from Jacksonville, and the Gulfqueen from Hamburg, arrived in Port Arthur early today. Sailing from the Gulf company terminals were the tanker Ligonier, for Galveston, and the cargo ship Clearwater, for South America, this vessel having taken bunker fuel at the Gulf after loading out with case oil at the Texas Company.

Shifting down from Beaumont late Wednesday, the steamship Lake Slav, stopped at the Texas Company for cargo and is scheduled to sail late today or early Thursday for Porto Rico. The steamship Sunawarkeo, of the Transmarine line, shifted from Beaumont to Port Arthur today and is loading out cargo at the Coastwise docks.

As Gentle as an Ocean Breeze!

You can't imagine how pleasant this new mild calomel is to take. Each little tablet is sugar-coated and free from medicine-like repulsive-ness. One or two at bed time makes you feel "top hole" as the Britishers say. It cannot salivate. Take it and eat anything you like. It is so mild and gentle you will hardly know that you have taken medicine. Nasty salts or other "follow-ups" not necessary. It does all any calomel can do—but it does it without drastic effects. Sold by all good drug stores. Prepared by the Pepsinated Calomel Co., Atlanta, Georgia.
